Challenges

LIMITED SOCIAL MEDIA ENGAGEMENT

Social media engagement for the brand and the product category itself was limited. To truly create an impactful campaign, we needed to be where the audience were.

MAXIMISING REACH & MINIMISING SPENDS

The second key challenge was optimising our approach to ensure we reached a large number of people while ensuring we manage our spends effectively.

APPROACH

To effectively address these challenges and tailor a coherent and unique campaign strategy that is specific to the brand and its audience. We conducted an independent dipstick research and after extensive perusal and analysis, we identified the right mediums.

EXECUTION STRATEGY

DISPLAY AND VIDEO ADS

We positioned ourselves in the right spaces. Wherever people were seeking recipes and vegetarian dishes, especially paneer, we were certain to advertise there.

REMARKETING CAMPAIGN

We are also running a remarketing campaign, where we draw traffic to the website and display our ads to users who've visited the site, especially alongside relevant content.

INFLUENCER CAMPAIGNS

We have commenced associations with popular chefs who will be creating delicious and unique dishes using Hatsun Paneer, which they will be posting on their social media platforms.

IMPACT

Our ongoing campaign has immense reach and is continuing to gain traction. People are constantly looking at a screen, via any digital device at any given point of the day. The content they're confronted with is abundant and through consistent and constant recall, information is etched in their minds. By reiterating our presence, we're occupying space in the minds of the audience, which inevitably influences their buying behaviour. When a consumer walks into a grocery store, they automatically gravitate towards a brand that's on the top of their head. That's the crux of our campaign for Hatsun Paneer.
